Father Tom's Column

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

Today's Responsorial Psalm (Psalm 128) offers the following prayer: "May the Lord bless us all the days of our lives." These words are a beautiful reminder to us that every good thing and all good gifts come from the Father. To ask the Lord to bless us each day is an acknowledgment of our own finiteness and limitations. We know, within the deep recesses of our hearts, that we are utterly dependent upon God for sustenance and substance. Asking the Lord to bless us is an invitation to have him enter intimately into our human experience. There is a sense of interdependence and mutuality between ourselves and God. The definition of relationship, whose origin first comes from God's love for us, is then manifested in our relationships with others. The first reading from Genesis expresses this in dramatic fashion with the unfolding story of creation. Something is taken from the man and is fashioned into his wife. While there is certainly a physiological and biologic dimension to this narrative, there is another truth unfolding here. On a superficial level the man loses something of himself. Yet, in that loss comes the mystery of God's love. In losing something of himself, the man gives life to another. There is nothing denied the man; indeed, he is enhanced by the sacrifice of himself that breathes life and love into another.

The very words of the psalmist suggest a caring for another. The prayer doesn't say, "May the Lord bless ME all the days of my life." Rather, there is an expression of collaboration in the drama of salvation history. We rely on one another as a reflection of our reliance upon God. God did not create us to be solitary creatures without relationships. On the contrary, he desires that our relationships be a reflection of his love for each of us. In order to have balanced and healthy relationships, there must necessarily be an element of surrender, suffering, of letting go. The Letter to the Hebrews expresses it well: "He 'for a little while' was made 'lower than the angels,' that by the grace of God he might taste death for everyone." It is in the suffering, poverty and humility of Jesus Christ that God is exalted and that each of us is bound together and thus called "brothers."

In these challenging and difficult times for the Church and the broader community, it is important for us to meditate upon the meaning of Christian discipleship and its implications for our lives. As a Catholic community, we can be examples to others of how to build a community reflected by mutual respect, self-sacrifice, and service to others without cost or calculation. This is not easy to do on our own; that is why we are drawn to the Eucharist, the source and summit of our faith and the foundation of all we aspire to do and be. As we learn all too well, there is no substitute. We can truthfully say that we are brothers and sisters because we share the Eucharist.

Let us resolve, myself included, to living a life that is a little less selfish and self-serving and more open and generous and therefore giving credibility when we say the words: You are my brother, you are my sister!

Our GIFT Program Begins Today

Sunday, September 30, 2018 from 11:30 -1:30 pm
| Fr. Lacey Hall

GIFT: Generations in Faith Together is our inter-generational, family based faith formation program. Gatherings are held once a month on Sundays from 11:30 - 1:30 pm. At each gathering, we enjoy a meal, opening prayer and introduction of the topic. Parents then guide children through topics and activities which are presented by the facilitators. Activities are presented in a way which empowers parents to share their faith with their children. GIFT is intended to complement liturgical events and other parish activities. All families with school-aged children are welcome to attend. Those families who have children preparing for sacraments are required to attend these gatherings. Even if you haven't pre-registered, you are welcome to attend. See Sabrina for registration information.

Bishop Oscar Romero Canonization

Sunday, October 14th | The Vatican

Oscar Romero, who will become the first Salvadoran saint, was born on August 15, 1917. He was gunned down during Mass in a hospital chapel March 24, 1980, a day after telling an army made up largely of peasants that they were killing their own people.

"No soldier is obliged to obey an order that is contrary to the will of God," he said.

He was shot through the heart by gunmen linked to a right-wing death squad while celebrating Mass, after saying, "one must not love oneself so much as to avoid getting involved in the risks of life that history demands of us, and those who fend off danger will lose their lives." Romero was outspoken against military oppression during his country's bloody civil war in the 1980s, and also of the role the United States played in it.

In a letter he sent to U.S. president Jimmy Carter in February of 1980, he urged America not to send military aid to El Salvador: "You say that you are Christian. If you are really Christian, please stop sending military aid to the military here, because they use it only to kill my people."

His death is considered by the Catholic Church to have been in "odium ideii," meaning in hatred of the faith.

Romero was beatified in San Salvador on May 23, 2015, in a ceremony that drew an estimated 250,000 people, believed to have been the largest religious gathering ever held in Central America.

Fr. Edgardo, who is from El Salvador, will be attending the canonization. He will be in Rome from Oct 10-19, 2018.

*St. Vincent de Paul—
Share the Warmth Drive*

October 20-21 | Fr. Lacey Hall

Our St. Vincent de Paul Conference will be conducting a Share the Warmth Drive at all Masses, the weekend of October 20th and 21st. We will be collecting clean blankets, clean adult coats and new socks for the rising number of adult clients at the SVDP Homeless Help Centers. These items will help protect the homeless from the cold during the upcoming winter months. Your generosity is very much appreciated.

Share Your Sewing Talent with Catherine Center

Parishioners, Claire Felong and Angie Sullivan spent many Fridays from 3-5 pm at Catherine Center, a safe house in Menlo Park, sharing sewing skills with the women who live there. We are seeking another sewer or two to become part of our group as it is good for us to have a core of 4-5 so that 2-3 can always be there on a given Friday. All the women have been incarcerated at some point in their lives,. All are recovering from addiction, all are happy to have this second chance to bring their lives together with concerted caring from counselors and therapists, spiritual directors and guidance from the community in areas including finance, health and beauty, nutrition and food prep among others. If interested, contact Claire Felong — Claire@redwoodhouse.com or 722-0366.
